

TOODALOO

By: Jose Flores, Lloyd Castro, Patrick Sangalang, Nadir Abdusemed

What were Building

- We plan to build a to do list with user friendly U.I.
- This will be easy to use and have useful features such as
 - Importable task from compatible sites. (ex canvas)
 - Notifications to remind users of task due that day. The notification will be by phone, email, or push notifications.(can add what time to notify you ahead of time)

We are constructing it for

- People who struggle with time management skills
- People who are OCD and want to be in control of their life and time.

Value it has

- Time is the most precious resource on earth we aim to help people be more organized and spend it more efficiently.
- The amount of time people regain instead of focusing or worrying about if they forgot something could be spent on something else

Validation

- Our project will add an element of satisfaction and completion.
- Also, builds discipline as you will have a daily structure of what task you need to get done that day
- Adds control and ease of mind to those who are forgetful or want to know what they need to do.